Dan—hope this helps. Thanks!

EPA is currently in negotiations with the Columbia Falls Aluminum Company to ensure that all parties can come to an agreement on an Administrative Order of Consent which would include a remedial investigation and feasibility study and continue on through the cleanup process.

In general, financial assurance provisions in settlements and orders require potentially responsible parties to demonstrate that adequate financial resources are available to complete required cleanup work.

Subject: Quick Question On Columbia Falls Proposed Superfund Site

Hi Rob and Rich,

Quick question on the proposed Superfund listing at Columbia Falls. Is it accurate to say that the EPA is currently negotiation with Glencore to ensure the company remains involved in the cleanup process? Do the negotiations involve the extent of financial responsibility the company has in the proposed cleanup?

Figuring out the most accurate way to phrase this, so if you could let get back to me this morning at some point, I'd be grateful.

Many thanks,

DF
